There were notable performances from Megan Malone (44kg) and Danielle Bridges (26kg), who opted to wrestle in male weight categories because there was no female competition at their weight. Megan won her category and Danielle finished 2nd.

The most competitive category of the day was in 63kg, where Calum Steele convincingly beat two experienced opponents in Kieran Malone and Kevin Kerrigan to claim gold. The silver medal was won by Kieran Malone by a fall in the third round of a very tight match.

The closest match of the day was in the 48kg category, where Craig McKenna won against Marcus Sudron by scoring late points to tie the score at 1-1 in each of the two periods. Marcus can consider himself unfortunate not to have taken it into a deciding third period.

A good day's wrestling at a new venue, but a little disappointing at the lack of support from some of the clubs who usually attend from the North of England. Thanks to Dave Sudron who brought 5 wrestlers from Stockton and refereed all day. Thanks also to all the other technical officials and pairers – Victor Keelan, Dougie Muir, Michael Canning, Gerry Malone and Karen Keogh.
